GOSPEL: St. Luke 16:1-13

Jesus said to his disciples, "A rich man had a steward who was reported to him for squandering his property. He summoned him and said, 'What is this I hear about you? Prepare a full account of your stewardship, because you can no longer be my steward.' The steward said to himself, 'What shall I do, now that my master is taking the position of steward away from me? I am not strong enough to dig and I am ashamed to beg. I know what I shall do so that, when I am removed from the stewardship, they may welcome me into their homes.' He called in his master's debtors one by one. To the first he said, 'How much do you owe my master?' He replied, 'One hundred measures of olive oil.' He said to him, 'Here is your promissory note. Sit down and quickly write one for fifty.' Then to another the steward said, 'And you, how much do you owe?' He replied, 'One hundred kors of wheat.' The steward said to him, 'Here is your promissory note; write one for eighty.' And the master commended that dishonest steward for acting prudently. "For the children of this world are more prudent in dealing with their own generation than are the children of light. I tell you, make friends for yourselves with dishonest wealth, so that when it fails, you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings. The person who is trustworthy in very small matters is also trustworthy in great ones; and the person who is dishonest in very small matters is also dishonest in great ones. If, therefore, you are not trustworthy with dishonest wealth, who will trust you with true wealth? If you are not trustworthy with what belongs to another, who will give you what is yours? No servant can serve two masters. He will either hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and mammon."

RCIA Inquirers Session #2: "Why a God?" Presenter: Father John

Today we seem to think we've moved beyond the idea of God, but this secular view of life is a very new and unusual idea to humanity. Why have we given up on God? Do we think science has disproven Him? Do we think society is better off without Him? Our souls seek their Creator, and we'll never be truly happy unless we seek Him out. St. Augustine famously said, "You have made us for Yourself O Lord, and our hearts are restless, until they rest in Thee."

7 Reasons to be an RCIA Sponsor

- Weekly small groups are so fulfilling
- You want to give back to the parish
- You love talking about all things Catholic
- Church-wise you haven't done much since Confirmation
- You'd like to watch your own faith deepen as you witness your candidate's conversion
- Other people's faith journeys are super interesting We can't bring in new members without sponsors.

Be a part of something beautiful. Sponsor a new Catholic.

Interested? Join us Thursday, September 22, 7pm at St. James Catholic Church
